The Face Of Luxury Pools

Kurt Kraisinger | LORAX Design Group

For more than 20 years, Kurt Kraisinger has provided design and consulting services for various planning and landscape architecture projects throughout the U.S. In 2009, he founded LORAX Design Group to bring the same level of quality design to pools that exists in custom homes and interiors. Recognizing that the pool industry has been coined the 'Wild West' of the design world, LORAX Design Group, offers both commercial and residential design services that range from landscape master plans to specialized custom pool designs. Kraisinger understands the psychology of outdoor rooms and how these well thought out spaces provide comfort and tranquility for a unique lifestyle experience. LORAX utilizes the fundamental invisible design principles and delivers a personalized destination to enjoy for years to come.
